ENDORSEMENTS

It is a pleasure to write this endorsement for Ruth Mangiacapre. Let me start off by saying that integrity is everything when it comes to ministry. Ruth is a devoted mother, wife, grandmother; and most of all, a dedicated Christian. Ruth has been a blessing to New Day the Church at High Point for many years. She teaches, imparts, and truly has a desire to see people advance in the calling that is on their lives. Her chief characteristic is integrity as a prophet of the Lord. I would recommend her for ministry at the highest level. Ruth lives what she teaches and knows how to impart life to the hearer. In all the years of knowing Ruth, I have never heard a bad report about her. She is always striving to learn more, to know more, so she can bring more illumination to those to whom she is training or ministering. As her Pastor, I am so blessed to have her not only be in our church, but to be part of the pastoral leadership staff. Ruth is also part of our Presbytery council and is an instructor in the 5Runner School of Ministry. Ruth is a gemstone given to the body of Christ, and I recommend her with the highest honors.

APOSTLE MIKE SIRIANNI
Senior Pastor of New Day the Church at High Point

As part of Ruth's spiritual oversight, I can say that I completely trust her ability to hear the voice of God. She is one who loves to live in His presence and knows how to minister from there, demonstrating the Kingdom of God by healing the sick, bringing restoration to broken places, and hope to those without. A woman of boldness and courage, Ruth teaches with clarity, trains, activates and imparts to all who yearn to hear God's voice and find their destiny. She is compassionate and sensitive as her passion for the King of Glory is shared with all who desire to know more about Him and His ways. Ruth is flexible and refuses to put God in a box, wanting to do things His way rather than the way of tradition or man's expectations. For all these reasons and more, I highly recommend Ruth Mangiacapre's ministry.

THE LATE GARY BROOKS
In His Image Ministries

Ruth Mangiacapre is an amazing seer/prophet that has heavenly experiences on a regular basis. Her teaching and preaching is accompanied with a clear authority that often brings demonstrations of Holy Spirit with power. I believe Ruth is one of many that God is using in this day to lift the Body of Christ to a place of hearing and seeing in the Spirit. This generation will go far beyond the normative mindset of the day to demonstrate Kingdom Power. I highly recommend the ministry of Ruth Mangiacapre.

JEFF JANSEN
Founder Global Fire Ministries

Ruth Mangiacapre is a prophetic minister who flows in a strong teaching anointing. With over 12 years of ministry experience in both pastoral ministry and prophetic counseling, Ruth is anointed to empower believers and see them activated in their unique gifts and callings. I have known Ruth personally for several years and can attest to her purity of heart and character before God. She will be a great blessing to your church.

MATT SORGER
Matt Sorger Ministries

There are many favorable words that could describe Ruth Mangiacapre, but perhaps the best description one could give is, “friend of God”. Ruth’s ministry is characterized by a prophetic anointing that carries an authority to lift individuals and churches to a greater level of purpose and destiny. As a gifted prophet who functions within a strong local church community, her experience and anointing are extremely valuable to local churches in practically expressing a Kingdom culture. It is for these reasons and many more that Ruth Mangiacapre carries my highest recommendation.

FOREWORD

These are amazing times in which we live. Those who are alive on the earth have the privilege of playing a significant roll in training and equipping the saints. Things are moving at warp speed, and there seems to be no limit to how fast God is moving to bring forth the Third Great Awakening in its fullness. Before the foundation of the earth, God set forth His will to establish certain individuals who would be alive to continue the work that has been in progress over the centuries. These anointed vessels would have to be mature and sensitive, and have a track record of bearing fruit geared towards the apostolic reformation.

It's an honor and a privilege to not only write this forward for Ruth Mangiacapre, but it's also an honor to serve alongside her, and to have her as a part of the New Day leadership team. Ruth serves as instructor in the School of the Prophets at 5Runner School of Ministry at New Day the Church at High Point, and as an advisor for New Day's Presbytery council. She is also in full-time itinerant ministry.

Ruth is a mature and joyful Servant of the Lord who takes her calling very seriously. She has continually asserted herself in Biblical training and spiritual enrichment, and continually surrounds herself with leaders in her field that challenge her for the greater. Through the years of knowing Ruth, she has trained many sons and daughters who have gone out and advanced the kingdom of Heaven on earth. Such a mandate can only be fulfilled by skilled workers, like Ruth, who are willing to be tested by every word that proceeds from their lips. Ruth is a passionate and intentional forerunner who pulls down revelation, which opens the door for others to recognize their own calling to comfortably step out into uncharted territory.

As her Pastor, I highly recommend Ruth and her teachings. I can proudly vouch for her character, integrity, and track record of being a humble minister and fearless leader. What a gift to the Body of Christ! Well done, Ruth!

Senior Pastor of New Day the Church at High Point

THE MOUTHPIECE

©2007 RUTH MANGIACAPRE

There are times I've lost my voice in the sea of religion,
Accusation and discouragement.
So I abandoned my message for another time and place.
Hoping it would re-emerge in some other mouthpiece
More confident than I.
Yet the fire from heaven shut up in these frail bones
Became more inflamed
As I sat immobile at the door of the Royal One
Who shed Grace through the cracks of my broken vessel.
Positioning oneself for usefulness is not the impossible task
My thoughts had embellished.
I, too, had a Samaritan tale,
A divine encounter with Truth Himself.
My whispers are gaining more strength.
Octaves increasing in effectiveness.
As my eyes lock into your piercing gaze.
This story must be pronounced!
It cannot lie silent through another season.
For you are the message!
These lips decree what my eyes have seen.
Simply, yet profoundly wonderful!

All fear is removed as love pulls back the layers of falsehood.

Truth is what it is. It never changes.

Truth is He!

He overshadows our inadequacies by the mere glimpse of His Glory!

Thus we proclaim.

No longer an empty mouthpiece void of power and passion,

A rote expression we heard on recycle.

Now fresh manna to feed the impoverished –

Thus the birth of the pure prophetic voice!

INTRODUCTION

The beginning of my prophetic journey began in 1981. I was saved at an Amway convention and knew very little of what a true Christian lifestyle entailed. I was unschooled in doctrine, religion, and the charismatic culture. Relationship with God became my highest priority.

Being abandoned by my father at the age of eight created a “black hole” in my heart. I spent much of my childhood depressed, anxious, and yearning for daddy’s presence. In time, I would discover that my heavenly Father’s presence was the seed for an enduring prophetic lifestyle. Lasting security was found only in His loving arms.

ROMANS 8:38 (NKJV) “FOR I AM PERSUADED THAT NEITHER DEATH NOR LIFE, NOR ANGELS NOR PRINCIPALITIES NOR POWERS, NOR THINGS PRESENT NOR THINGS TO COME, NOR HEIGHT NOR DEPTH, NOR ANY OTHER CREATED THING, SHALL BE ABLE TO SEPARATE US FROM THE LOVE OF GOD WHICH IS IN CHRIST JESUS OUR LORD.”

Many are enamored by the gifts of the Spirit. Embracing the prophetic as a lifestyle begins and ends with revelation of God’s love, goodness, and mercy. For it is in this place that we rest securely in grace. Our motives are tried, hearts are revealed and ultimately healed.

I invite you to come. Let us fasten our seat belts and fly into the realms of His Spirit with joy and delight. Revelation unfolds as simplicity is maintained. My prayer is that the reader turns the pages of this book and discovers grace for the race, boldness to “become,” and childlike faith to soar into his or her own prophetic destiny!

BEGINNINGS

My prophetic journey began very early on. Psalm 139:16 (AMP) states,

“YOUR EYES SAW MY UNFORMED SUBSTANCE, AND IN YOUR BOOK ALL THE DAYS (OF MY LIFE) WERE WRITTEN BEFORE EVER THEY TOOK SHAPE, WHEN AS YET THERE WAS NONE OF THEM.”

Long before I was “born again,” I was perceptive to my surroundings. My mother always said I was emotional. Teachers said I daydreamed, and doctors labeled me as “emotional, neurotic, and flighty.” Sensitivity was my enemy in an unstable home environment.

I have only recently been able to embrace my “total” self with spiritual understanding. I was an emerging prophet! If only someone would have recognized my “sensitivity” or mentored me along the way, extending grace to my learning, I may have been able to avoid so many pitfalls. But God was birthing in me an understanding of the painstaking process of “becoming.”

From an early age I always just “knew” things. I “knew” when my father was about to leave again and again. I “knew” when and what my Italian speaking grandparents were talking about even though I never learned the language. I “knew” what time it was without ever looking at a clock. I “knew” when someone was deeply suffering because I perceptively experienced their internal pain. This can be quite grueling to a child who had no one to talk to.

My mother worked two jobs. As the oldest daughter, I learned responsibility from an early age. I did not want to care for my younger siblings; instead, I just wanted to imagine, daydream, and pen simple poetry. This resentment of my lost identity made me feel lonely and misunderstood. I longed for significance and purpose. I even struggled adapting as a student. Coloring in the lines so to speak, was never “who I was.” I was creative, sensitive, and imaginative. I pondered deeply and always had this sense of “knowing.” I never knew that the prophetic life was brewing in preparation early on.

For example: Dad would make a random inconsistent visit. I would experience unrest, anxiety, and a darkness that I could not explain when he would appear. Little did I know at that time he was struggling with a bi-polar disorder and alcoholism. Perception and discernment were gifts that were operative, though at the time I had no understanding, just emotional pain.

During my teens, I became enamored by the supernatural. Since I did not equate the supernatural with real Christianity, I sought it in other things. Ouija boards and experimentation with automatic handwriting, body levitation, and mind reading fascinated me. Fortunetellers seemed to have the same capacity to “know” things, and I embraced the excitement. I thought I had found my niche in life. My sister once reminded me that I would practice on her late at night. She was afraid of me because I could read her thoughts. All of this was done in innocence. I simply had no biblical understanding or revelation of a Holy God. So instead, I played in the pigpen of the occult and had limited successes.

Though I feared God, deep inside I knew my life was different and there was a grace upon me amidst the dark side. I also knew I had been set apart. Occasionally, I would see flashing visions of me speaking before groups of people. You see, we are set apart early on!
